Cindy Atlas

Dear Cim,

Remember when we found out we would be entertained by eight boys in summer school? The note(s) Heidi D. sent Dick Brian & Danny Davis. The card you sent me before I left for Canada, long distance phone call, the first to tell me about Dick when I got home at midnight, Monday, July 5. The phone call to 1480 Berkeley the next day. Which I didn't you sincerely for. Then there's the time you took your little cousin Delores to Nakomis - all the other times we went (after summer school) there's the time Dick & I got in a fight with a bunch of kids in the car & I told him exactly what I thought & you said he was going to punch me like I was going to punch out & he turned sweet. The time Dick & I were at your house in the living room & you were upstairs on the phone you wanted us to take the phone off the hook downstairs to listen to us fight. Here it is now time for summer & more school - we won't be as lucky as last year though. God what a bore - Religion. Anyway, please forget about our fights - they are few - but serious - opposite of me & Dick - I got me

Cindy -

Well, here's summing up the big year when I got my big chance from Sharn too. His year sure has been a helluva one. Honest to God, I've never felt sadder for anyone in my life. (It's good for laughs too, though but I guess he's not laughing.) Remember crawling & our choice" for F.S., F.S. & Bugs, the play, everybody was great, Shelly falling flat on her rear down the crawling lane, W. Kare & our tender little home'com, (don't ya just absolutely love her!) Well, beautiful, have fun this summer & if ya ever run into the Colonel's son, say "hi" to him for me.

Love ya, Alley

Cin we've really got through a lot together. It's been great fun. Think of all the things we've done together - our lunch table - the night I slept over - the fun in the car - phone calls - waiting for you (your always late) - my haven - I told and you make me feel good and laugh - living in almost all our classes together - I could go on forever and ever (But I won't) Love, Joe, (floats) Joanne

Hi Cindy,
 School's been a riot - next year's should be even more fun. Glad you were in at least two of my classes.
 Choral and homeroom were a lot of fun.
 Will see you next year. Have one hell

I didn't think we could do it! Then there was my fair lady and all the times I saw you running around in the halls.

How about last night when we rode around with that

FORWARD

Cindy Dear, you all rattle shake you, Hi Dear, how are you? (nice start) Even though we haven't been going around together for very long we still have some pretty good memories. First of all, remember me. Then, remember all the crazy those kids were so believe it, we pretty neat kids ol' Bugs that we both had a super sized crush on. Then you thought that you would be tricky and ask him to the J.A. Then I thought I'd be tricky and invite him to the J.A. God, I'll never forget the silly look on your face. Then there were the frequent trips to the apartment. Like the time we went over to clean it and we ended up at Hal's. Remember good ol' Miss March? I don't. Remember Sully, (cause I won't) (sure) Dubas, Dick Paul & Charlie B. forget the crazy maids. Remember Bailey's Party that looked more like an asylum (sp?) All the accidents our cast had, my butt & leg, your foot, Duberry's body. Remember the time we took Diz and Horn to Brimans (sp?) And the time I fell in love with him at the airport. Well that's enough about the mental play. It was something I will never forget. I know you won't either. We still have the old Lesbian Awards Dinner to look forward to. Remember the time you were me. It's kind of sad that will probably be the last time we will see some of those kids. Remember the time we went to Pearson's and talked to Pushtan Baby for two hours. Remember painting sets and the merry make out up girl. Well, I guess you know that the play is still on my mind. (these crazy pictures are really racking up my writing. Well, for the 85th time, that's enough about the play. Remember house. We had Pearsons and going by good ol' Gillespies. Remember a great car-pool too, even if I only saw you about twice a week when you'd be on time. This summer is going to be the best yet. We can do a whole bunch of junk that nobodys done before. Like jumping off the Ford B-ridge. (Ha-Ha) I'll be over here every time Cordy steps out of his door. You have to call me when he starts cutting his grass or hanging out his laundry. Maybe my mom will let me out some time to come over to your house, and if she doesn't, I'll be mailing quite a few letters. (In the opposite direction) Remember Tim Delaney and the J.A. Boy, that was the shock of a lifetime. This just shows how

Evident within every area of Derham Hall's school life is the Student Council, the one straight I write. Really, though Cindy, we have had quite a organization of which every student is a part. This body of students works with the faculty in promoting student-organized activities such as the Fall Festival, convocations, and "wait till I get my license" Does that sound familiar? this year, a mixer. It is a group which has grown and adapted itself to our growing, changing school and will continue to keep in step with future changes. The Student Council, they are great people. Remember the time we made the rounds of the hospitals and went to rehearsal & fold everybody how wonderful we are. Please remember me not as I am but as I may be some day. I will never forget you. I love you, Deannie Evelyn (hah!) Fangwharson (Fark)

This yearbook is dedicated to one who puts our school's motto, "Wisdom and Charity," into everyday practice. In the classroom she helps her "bobolinks" to grasp the underlying concepts of mathematics, a discipline so vital today. She is truly committed to teaching, even to the point of giving up a World Series ticket to instruct her students. Many girls have profited from her guidance and understanding in her position as former principal and advisor to classes and clubs. She has particularly helped the Student Council to become a more effective force in school life. In all respects — academic, extracurricular, social, and spiritual — she has aided in Derham's growth.

well - Cindy - I'm glad Tim & meyers took my place - nice friend I forgot what I was gonna say. now this isn't gonna be too neat - with Linda's driving and all. well - now that we've had our those cops - day about the talked have to do something about that - and you have to do some thing about your morals! I mean... well... You remember that little sermon I started to give you - and you said - "oh don't you start that again - like everyone else!"

well - I'm sorry. Remember our great lunch table - your little fights with Sharon - those do get heated, don't they. But I like to remain neutral in those. See, again remember again play - Tom Salberg & Jeff?? Have fun tomorrow at the Drama Dinner! With Jeff. Say hi to Tommy for me - Ok? You're a swell kid - I love ya! But I don't want to get personal. Remember our Junior class picnic - and my next driving?? Only four curbs - your cut foot - singing the school song - both of them at Nikomis! now that we both have our license - we should be seeing more of each other this summer and next year. Ok. - Sorry about the mess - well you're almost home so I'll have

Sister Julie - Principal

Replacement of the demerit system of student government with the honor system, the introduction of a more varied and comprehensive choice of electives for all classes, the exchange of nylons for black knee-hi's, a new convent - these are a few of the ways in which Sister Julie spells EFFICIENCY. These are a few of the reasons why Derhamites translate this word - PROGRESS.

This year for the first time, Derham has an Assistant Principal, Sister Mary Louise. Besides teaching American History, she attends to many administrative details and takes full charge of the school when Sister Julie is away.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council, through weekly meetings Descending, My Fair Lady, and various activities, works as a link between the student body and the faculty.

In January, a demonstration meeting was your house watching your bitters fight and then presented to the entire school. Its purpose went over to Maureen's, was to inform the students more fully about but I had to leave the work of their Council.

GAA

G.A.A., Derham's athletic association, is a club in which girls participate in extra-curricular sports. The board members help organize the club and arrange special activities, such as the horseback riding trip, skiing trip, skating, and tournaments. Points earned by the girls for their participation in sports are accumulated during the year for awards, which are given at the Awards Assembly in spring.

Under the direction of co-editors
Mary Beth Gorrie and JoAnn Riesgraf, this year's HOUR GLASS staff worked to produce a yearbook that would reflect the spirit of growth of Derham 1966. Writing copy, designing lay-outs, and arranging for pictures became matters of routine as harried staff members hurried to meet final deadlines.

Editors Mary Beth Gorrie and JoAnn Riesgraf.

LE FLEUR DE LIS

Le Fleur-de-Lis, the senior French club, was headed by Judy Korlath. Members of this fourth-year French club became more familiar with the culture and civilization of France. They may also attend the meetings of Le Cercle Francais.

Officers: President, Judy Korlath,
Vice President, Yvonne Kraft
Secretary, Audie Wertheimer,
Treasurer, Kathy Meyers

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS

Under the leadership of Betsy Martin, LeCercle Francais functioned this year for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors with meetings held after school under the guidance of Sister Jeandre. Among the projects for this year were a Christmas Program, "La Legende de St. Nicolas" and "La Nativite," a Mardi Gras, and an all-school assembly in the spring.

Officers: President, Betsy Martin
Vice President, Chris DeLisi
Secretary, Georgia Skoog
Treasurer, Joyce Martin

EL CIRCUJO ESPAÑOL

Again this year, Spanish Club members participated in a number of activities which ranged from pinata-breaking to a demonstration of Spanish dancing. Through such activities, each girl has become better acquainted with the culture of the Spanish-speaking countries.

Officers: (second level)
President, Mary Ann Quinn,
Vice President, Claudia Flesch
Secretary, Judy Angvik
Treasurer, Helen Baker

LATIN

The Latin Club was busy this year striving to fulfill the work its members do in class by giving them a better understanding of the Roman people and their culture. Among the projects were the publication of the AEGIS, a semi-annual paper; a party in October to commemorate the 2035th anniversary of Vergil's birth; and the Christmas event, the Saturnalia, which proved to be a great success. The annual Latin banquet climaxed the year's activities.

Officers: President, Helene Liebe
Vice President, Linda Meyers
Secretary, Chris Hope

MU ALPHA THETA

The Math Club of Derham, now in its second year, is an organization which promotes further study in the field of mathematics. This year, in addition to arranging a trip to Control Data, the members have learned how to make and operate their own playing card computer. Through their skills and achievements, the organization hopes to develop a deeper appreciation of mathematics.

Officers: Mary Jo Peterka, president; Jackie Mannering, vice-president; Maureen Doyle, secretary-treasurer.

National Honor Society this year promoted projects to develop character, scholarship, leadership, and service. After welcoming five new senior members in December, the Society organized a tutoring service, supervised a stamp and coupon collection, and worked on a book drive for a school in the Philippines. During the year discussion meetings on such topics as a modern "folk song" and the purpose of college were also held.

Officers: Mary Beth McGroarty, president; Marcia Kremer, secretary-treasurer.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

RED CROSS

The fifteen members of Derham's Red Cross Club handle mission projects and campaigns for other charitable organizations. A big job this year was making facilities available for eligible seniors who wished to donate blood.

AUDIO-VISUAL

The Audio-Visual Club, new to the school this year, has the job of operating the audio-visual equipment for classes, assemblies, and club meetings. Its members handle the ordering of new materials and films and care for all audio-visual equipment.

Officers: President, Sheila Connolly; vice-president, Barb Le Tourneau; secretary, Claudia Wilken.

MUSIC

Among the Music Club's activities this year were monthly meetings, recitals, and contests. Organizing the monthly meetings was a responsibility shared by all the girls, whose imagination was shown in programs which included hootenannies, Israeli folk dancing lessons, and movies. Once again, the point system was used as each girl worked for her pin. This year's activities were topped with a picnic in the spring.

Officers: Linda Ross, president; Terry Wesolowski, vice president; Sue Marschall, secretary-treasurer.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club, composed of forty members under the direction of Sister Martin de Porres, conveyed a spirit of happiness through song in their many performances this year. Among these were programs for the entire student body as well as appearances at Newman's Department Store, the Wilder Clinic, and the faculty's annual Christmas party.

REF CLUB

Members of the Referee Club give up several of their study periods each week to help Mrs. Kessler's physical education classes by leading the girls in the exercises and teaching them skills. Most of the members judged this year's volleyball and basketball tryouts.

SPEECH

The Speech Club, under the direction of Sister Mary Edwin, gives its members both knowledge and experience in the skills of acting. As do all "Fine Arts Clubs," the Speech Club centers its work on a search for truth, beauty, and goodness in life. The sophomores, who begin with elementary techniques of public speaking, and the junior and senior members have turned out such productions as "The Seekers" in the fall and the Christmas assembly on December 21st.

Officers: Mary E. Smith, president; Winnie Kinneberg, Kathy Meyers, vice presidents; Cindy Carley, secretary-treasurer.

DEBATE

Public speaking is really an art, as members of the Debate Club came to realize through their efforts to settle the question of compulsory arbitration in labor unions, which was the 1965 debate topic. Not only does debate widen knowledge of current national and world problems, but it teaches organization and the ability to think quickly and to express thoughts clearly. Debaters agree that there is much to be gained from the hard work of debating.

USHERS

Chosen by the faculty, members of the Ushers Club arrange the auditorium for convocations. In addition, they are responsible for seating the faculty, special guests, and students.

EVEN TS

FALL FESTIVAL

The weeks before the Fall Festival at Derham Hall found students and faculty alike busily organizing booths and activities to raise money for the 1965 mission project. Sponsored by the Student Council, the Festival included a senior food booth, entertainment at the annual talent show, and plenty of chance for recreation at the various booths. It was a day for everyone to unwind, and have fun, with the thought that the money they were spending was going to a very good cause.

DAD-DAUGHTER DANCE

Many girls discovered hidden talents in their dads, as the lively rendition of "The Jewel" was voted the most likely candidate for the Top Ten, and the twist contest went a second round at the 1965 Father-Daughter Dinner Dance held on Oct. 28.

The decor in the Prom Ballroom, where the Dinner-Dance was held, was modern Halloween. After-dinner entertainment included the premieres of some original compositions performed by groups of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and dads and daughters danced to the music of Joe Busch, who pleased both generations with a variety of fast and slow songs.

Practically everyone got a chance to take part in the program, and the dance was considered a big success.

A WALK IN THE BLACK FOREST

Tall, stark saplings were lacquered black and decked with roses to set the scene for the Turkey Trot which was held on November 24. Sophomores served buffet refreshments as the Underbeats played for Derhamites and their dates.

MIXER

Derham held its first all school mixer on Friday, November 12. "Music" was provided by the Frenchmen. Students from neighboring high schools were invited, and the turnout packed the gym from wall to wall.

VOLLEY BALL

The Volleyball

The Winners,

Friday, December 10, found hundreds of Derham students rooting for their favorite teams at the annual volleyball championship. Feeling ran high as the game progressed; the seniors emerged victorious, and Mrs. Kessler presented the trophy to the Class of '66 for the third year. Congratulations, seniors!

THE SEEKERS

To open this year's series of presentations, the Speech Club produced "The Seekers," a one-act allegory which was based on "The Pardoner's Tale."

THE UGLY DUCKLING

"The Ugly Duckling" was the third Speech Club production, scheduled for an early-March presentation. The all-sophomore cast is pictured in a rehearsal scene.

THE KING OF PEACE

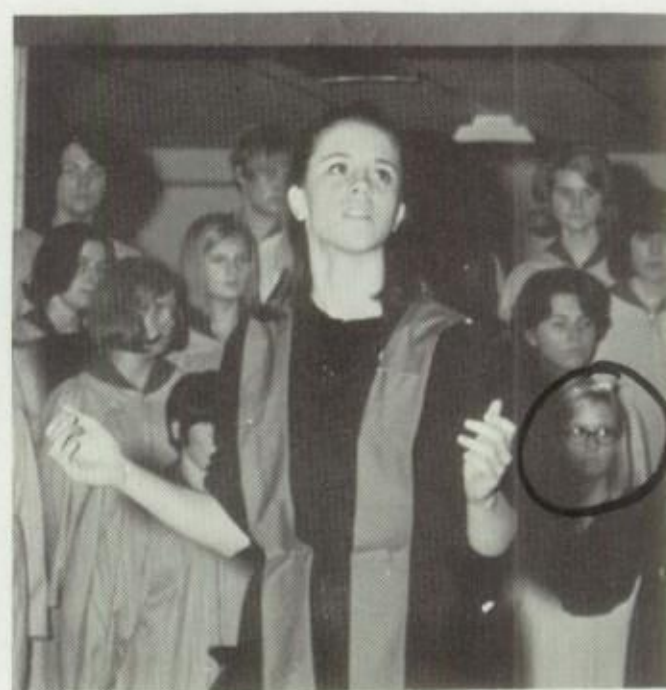

The narrator

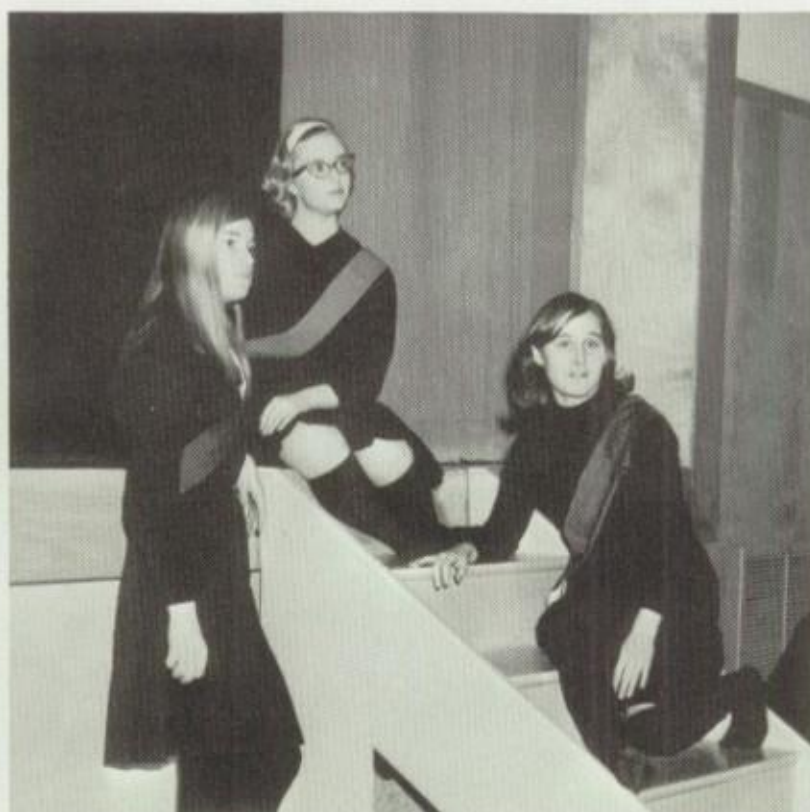

The peace of God.

The universal meaning of Christmas provided the theme for a program on December 21. The Drama and Glee Clubs, assisted by a group of dancers, presented adaptations of Isaia's prophecy and T.S. Eliot's "Murder In The Cathedral."

A "theatre-in-the-round" staging was used.

Molly Ramsey portrays Isias.

Sophomores and juniors were cast in supporting roles as Old Testament characters.

GUESTS

The Music Club sponsored a performance of contemporary folk music by Bernard Backman, a local Lutheran seminarian. Mr. Backman's unique style added to his rendition of self-composed numbers

An unscheduled guest at Derham was the prominent television performer, John Forsythe. Mr. Forsythe was in St. Paul to act as the Grand Marshal of the 1966 Winter Carnival.

Backstage: Judy Korlath and friend.

FRESH PARTY

Games and a pot-luck supper were organized and prepared by the freshmen for their class party, which took place on the afternoon of January 26. Faculty members were invited and seemed to enjoy themselves as much as the girls.

CROTCH CLUB

CLASS OFFICERS

The Class of 1966 is the first to complete four years at the new Derham. Many changes have come about in those years; the school has grown in enrollment, the Student Council has become more active, and the seniors have been given the privilege of using passes to cut classes. Led by the president and other officers, the class has tried to adapt school traditions to changing times.

Cindy,
We weren't in too many classes together this year.
Maybe we'll be next year. Have fun this summer and best of luck. See ya next year. Love

Dear

Dear Mrly -

well. it's almost over, now - and then we'll be seniors. Do you - or rather, can you believe how quickly time flies? Only yesterday we were buying our books: all that junk. Remember: (and boy is there a lot to remember!) the first days this year, rides home: to the hospital in Chris' Mustang, foot ball games, the STMA! Cretin, Homecoming mixers, Cretin H.C. - my big date with Dawey Beer, meeting Tim Costello the next night, wrapping over a date for the T.T., me calling Shooter - (as accepting, our problems over hair and how we were getting there, doubling, the rose down your dress, Jimmy's - me home at 12:45 - you at 2:10, Erdman's ???!!!, John Austin and touring Mpls, Cos, Biscan's - such nice people, sneaking Greg's car, the 'good' ski trip, oh - my getting in trouble baby-sitting at Alton's - Christmas vacation, my troubles over Cos - me being 16 - the New Year's Party you never made - going to Sugar Hills with the family - staying over night at your house - mother filas! Penney, back to school again, semesters, getting grounded, Steve Kaupman, the neat "Dance Dance", still problems over Cos, Chris, her problems with Tim, Nancy's with Mike, dreams of the J.S., worrying some male over grabbing hold of a - boy, of course My Fair Lady, Dan Hoffman and his..., your crushes on every boy involved in that play, Buggs, me - for some still unknown reason - asking Rob, your asking Buggs the apt, play practices my dance guide, getting our formal, the J.S.!, your means of transportation, good ole' Joanne! Tam, going to the apt, my crying session, ROB, Jimmy's, term (?) papers, phone calls, notes, when you got your license, the performances of M.F.T., make-up, Jeff, J.A. with Delaney, Sullivan, Chris and all her dates you! me with all (?) of ours? (Yes), baby, the campaign for Rob - and her winning, visits to the man in black, my mother! and whoever else you have been in love with. All'm all it was good - perhaps not great like last year - but. there were good - and bad times (alt 45 under your bed!) I am - I hope - considered to be your friend - and we will have as much fun in 31 year as the past ~~year~~ two. As seniors? Unbelievable. The best of everything - for you deserve it - love, Maureen Ann Gifford. I (166) (P.S.)

Cindy,
 It's been fun being in art class with you this year. I'll never forget all the wonderful creations.
 My senior year is almost over and it's been just great. - hope yours is just as much fun.
 The best of luck in your last year at Serham.

Love,
 Kathy (Vaught)

Cindy -

Remember the great homeroom we had with Karl how could we! Also remember the Great Cretin Play "My Fair Lady" I didn't have a part but it was fun wasn't it. Hope I see ya this summer

Love ya,
 Janien

Cindy -

It was great these past years and I know you'll miss us all next year. Take care & be as good as you're here. Take care of all the boys too.

Love ya much,
 Jackie

Cindy, I'd write on all the empty pages but you'd probably fill me! But, Cindy, I just want ya to know that I'm enjoying this year alot with you. Give hangin' around, especially in study - I don't know what I'd do without I you there in one of your "real like talking" moments. But whatever you do this summer, don't forget I'll still be in town, ready to go!!

P.S. I could write alot of memories - but everyone else will know I don't know what I'm saying!

Love ya,
 Thanks!

Cindy, what do you know we made all classes together this year!
 Remember when we both went to ST. Agnes? Then ST. Marks and now good old Serham Hall! I'll never forget your little crush on President - you'd walk behind him by that house 4 or 5 times a day! This summer we'll be good to all the good to all the men!

Cindy - it's all about in summer, men!
 Cindy you're the only summer trip to meet your friends
